100 years of flight

In the second story in a series on the Centennial of Flight, Col. Roy C. Kirtland, one of the military's first pilots and the person Kirtland AFB is named for, is the topic. See Pages 12-13 for the series by Master Sgt. Jim Gildea of the 377th Air Base Wing History Office and Steve Watson of the Air Force Research Laboratory History Office.

Santa's TDY to Kirtland AFB

Santa Claus was a distinguished visitor at the Kirtland AFB Christmas Tree Lighting, Dec. 4. Col. Hank Andrews, 377th Air Base Wing commander, lit the TEAM KIRTLAND tree in a ceremony sponsored by the 377th Services Squadron. The tree is in the field at Wyoming Boulevard and B Street, north of the tennis courts.
